PRESIDENT: The House had debated item No. 76 under Demand No. II. Mr.Excise Commissioner will now proceed.

DEMAND No. II—EXCISE DEPARTMENT - (concld.)

MR. M. P. JOSEPH: Sir, we were yesterday on this subject of nationalisation of salt industry. The mover of the resolution supported it on three grounds: first on the ground that better salt could be produced if Government takes up the monopoly; second, that it could be sold at a cheaper rate and third, that the money which we realise may be utilised for ameliorative purposes.

Yesterday, I was dealing with the question of monopoly. Till the year 1080, Government had the monopoly of salt. But the salt which was produced in the State was insufficient for our consumption and so we had to get salt from Bombay and Tuticorin. After the monopoly was abolished and licenses were given the salt manufacture in our State became increasingly sufficient for our purposes.

MR. E. P. VARUGHESE (Ambalapuzha cum Shertallai): May I know when that license was abolished?

MR. M. P. JOSEPH: In 1080.

Now, we have in fact, an over production. About 12 lakhs maunds of salt are required for our consumption. We get about 15 to 20 lakhs if the seasons are favourable. The licensees are also vying with one another to have better salts so that they may effect larger sales. If the Government takes up the salt industry it may be possible to prepare and produce good salt. But there will be no incentive to improve the quality. The incentive to improve the quality will be lost if the Government takes up the industry.
